

Take A Peek
At the Fab Fives Week
May 2-6

We are very excited to honor our Moms this week! They are the focus of our week's curriculum, ending with our Mother's Day Tea on Friday morning. FYI, we will be whisking your children away for a quick meeting before the Tea begins on Friday, so please arrive as close to 9:00 as possible. Thank you!

In addition, we will continue our study of artists and their masterpieces. On Wednesday and Thursday, we will recreate Van Gogh's "Starry Night" and "splatter paint" like Jackson Pollack. On Friday, we will explore the shapes and colors of Kandinsky's abstract tradition. And of course, we will continue to celebrate our own budding artists in the Fives, each with their own style and flair!

It looks like a rainy week ahead, but as the weather (hopefully!) warms, remember to apply any sunscreen and bug protection before drop-off, and please continue to send your child in shoes that are good for running and playing up at the playground amid sand and wood chips.
